Local

Philadelphia is a city of many ethnicities. This is becoming true in cities across North America. People come to North America for opportunities for a better future for their families. Many are learning English so they can assimilate into the culture and possibly one day become citizens.

Many cities have ministries that teach English as a Second Language (ESL). These ministries always need volunteers. Often the parents who are learning English bring their children to class. Ask your local ESL director if your children could possibly volunteer to entertain the children of their adult students. They could play with them or even help with homework.

Don't forget to encourage ethnic families to visit your church or another of their ethnicity. Invite their children to your church's children's events. Show them the love of Jesus in action.

Connect with a Philadelphia church planter

Many times new church plants need tangible help with supplies for ministry evangelism events such as block parties, VBS, food pantries, etc. These are some things your children may be able to help new churches acquire. Go to namb.net/philadelphia, and click on the Mobilize Me button to learn how your group can partner in a church planter's ministry to the lost in Philly. A list of church planters serving in Philly is also available there.

Children may also want to write letters of encouragement to church planters and their families. Contact the North American Mission Board in one of the following ways to learn how and who:
